

Git and Pull Request Process

Engineering · classification: Internal

Git and Pull Request Process (Tech)

===== Trunk-based development with short-lived branches; commit messages follow the imperative convention. Pull requests stay small, link the ticket, describe the change and the risk, and pass CI before review. Reviews focus on correctness, security and maintainability; approvals expire when new commits land. Release notes are generated from conventional commits; hotfixes ride the expedited path with a follow-up retro.